

DREAMSCAPER

Ian Plant Residency

Saturday & Sunday, May 12 & 13

Whether hanging over an active volcano's rim, braving the elements to photograph endangered species, or trekking deep into wilderness places most will never see, professional photographer Ian Plant continues his quest to capture the beauty of our world via his camera. A frequent magazine contributor, managing editor of the online resource "Outdoor Photography Guide," and author of books and instructional videos, Plant leads Woodson Art Museum public programs and a class designed to help you see and frame subjects in a new light.

May 12 Saturday 1 – 2 pm

Photographer Gallery Walk

Join Ian Plant for a gallery walk, gaining his insights and impressions of Rarely Seen photographs, including his own, Ice Cave Wisconsin.

May 12 Saturday 3 – 6 pm

Lessons from the Field

Photography Class

Ian Plant shares expert photography techniques by showing participants how to see the world the way your camera sees it. From technical advice about aperture and exposure settings to the artful use of perspective, composition, and light, Ian's photography lessons at the Museum will alter how you see the world and transform your photography. Designed for intermediate photographers; call to register and for more information. Fee: $15, members; $25, non-members.

May 13 Sunday 1 – 2 pm

Stories behind the Shots

Photographer Ian Plant shares favorite photos taken around the world. Listen to stories about his experiences and expeditions, from up-close encounters with endangered species to some of the most spectacular scenery on Earth.

A grant from the B.A. & Esther Greenheck Foundation supports the Ian Plant residency.

Cancellation Policy: Advance registration is required for all classes and other programs having the phone symbol. Places will be held only upon receipt of full participation fee. Fees are refundable (minus a 20% handling charge) up to seven days before a class begins. After that time fees are non-refundable unless there is a waiting list (refund minus 20% handling charge) or the program is cancelled (full refund).
