

Mural, Mural on the Wall

Jane Kim Artist Residency

Friday – Sunday November 9 – 18

Artist, science illustrator, and founder of Ink Dwell – a studio designed to inspire people to love and protect the earth, Jane Kim specializes in creating large-scale public installations. Her paintings capture the awe-inspiring realism of the natural world. She received widespread acclaim for her Cornell University Lab of Ornithology mural celebrating the evolution and diversity of birds. During Jane's Woodson Art Museum residency, observe her at work as she completes a large, commissioned painting onsite, illustrating how bird feathers get their color. She also will lead a Birds in Art gallery walk, offer a full-day scientific illustration workshop for teens and adults, and present an evening presentation about her work and artistic process as well as sign copies of The Wall of Birds, which chronicles the Lab of Ornithology project.

Scientific Illustration

Teen & Adult Workshop

Teens and adults interested in learning more about the art form of natural-history illustration receive instruction from certified scientific illustrator Jane Kim, whose lifelike murals of the natural world garner national praise for their elegance, accuracy, and artful storytelling. Total fee: $75 for members; $90 for non-members; cost includes lunch and materials.

Support for "Mural, Mural on the Wall" is provided by an award from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Additional support for the Jane Kim residency comes from the Community Arts Grant Program of the Community Foundation of North Central Wisconsin, with funds provided by the Wisconsin Arts Board, a state agency; the Community Foundation; and the B.A. & Esther Greenheck Foundation.

November 15 Thursday 5:30 – 6:30 pm

Behind The Wall of Birds

Presentation & Book Signing

Join Jane Kim as she tells the story of her 2,500-square-foot mural for the Cornell Lab of Ornithology depicting the evolution of birds. The two-and-a-half-year journey to complete this monumental mural is documented in a new book, The Wall of Birds: One Planet, 243 Families, 375 Million Years, published by Harper Collins. A book signing follows Jane's presentation; books available for purchase at the Museum.
