Walter Wick

Opening Weekend

Saturday – Sunday, February 27 – 28

Miami-based artist Walter Wick, perhaps best known as the photographic illustrator of the I SPY Scholastic book series, ignites the imagination and engages curious minds through his whimsical images teeming with toys, machines, and illusions.

Wick began his career honing technical skills as a commercial photographer. Later he opened his own New York City studio, produced work for magazines such as Psychology Today, Discover, and Newsweek, and for ten years designed and created photographic puzzles for Games magazine. He went on to build a career creating mind-boggling photo illustrations, often from his intricately designed model sets, for search-and-find masterpieces and optical-illusion images.

Walter Wick, In Suspense from Walter Wick's Optical Tricks, 1998, photograph

Join Walter Wick during opening-weekend programs to learn more about his mesmerizing images, creative process, and playful concepts.

February 27 Saturday 3:30 – 5 pm

Learning through Play

Walter Wick believes in the power of play. Join the artist as he shares the story of his journey as a photographer and how creative exploration at a young age nurtured his artistic ambitions. Book signing at 4:30 pm.

February 28 Sunday 1 – 2 pm

Can You See What I See?

Behind the Scenes with Walter Wick

From concepts to intricate studio processes, Wick provides an in-depth look behind his award-winning photographic illustrations, including highlights from his famous I SPY and Can You See What I See? series. This talk looks at how Wick blends art, games, illusion, and science, and includes reactions he's received over the years from sharp-eyed readers.

Leigh Yawkey Woodson Art Museum

Franklin & 12th St.
Wausau, WI 54403
715.845.7010
www.lywam.org

Follow Us

Weekly blog Woodson Wanderings

Tuesday – Friday	9am – 4pm
First Thursday of each month	9am – 7:30pm
Saturday – Sunday	Noon – 5pm

Closed Monday and holidays, including Easter

Always FREE Admission